LOL... Indispensable

One of most tactful way to sack an employee,

Boss, "I don't know how we are going to get on without you, but starting from Monday we are going to try."

DON'T PUT ALL
YOUR EGGS
IN ONE BASKET

"Don't put all your eggs in one basket", this idiom is quite true when planning for an investment portfolio. Portfolio management means the art and science of making decisions about investment mix and policy, matching investments to objectives, asset allocation for individuals and institutions and balancing risk against performance.

Investment portfolio varies from person to person. Portfolio of students, Businessman, salaried person, women (Housewife/service), senior citizens are different from one another as every group has different financial needs and goals. An ideal portfolio hence will depend on a person's goal, need, liquidity requirement, risk appetite, tax efficiency and returns.

When choosing investment plans one should analyse the features of each plan invest is ones which meet his/her requirement. There are many investment options available where money can be invested. Some of them are, public provident fund, National savings certificate, money market funds, Bank fixed deposits, Sukanya Samriddhi Yojana, National Pension System, Atal Pension Yojana, Diversified Mutual Funds investments, direct equity/Stock investments, Real Estate investment, Gold /commodity investments, corporate /commercial deposits etc. Another important fact to remember is ensuring that all investment is not in same sector/company/asset class (one basket).

"By keeping your eggs in different basket you can invest with less risk and better returns"
